IRD Subsidiary Awarded Contract for New Weigh Stations in Paraguay

2020-09-03

SASKATOON, SK, Sept. 3, 2020 /PRNewswire/ - International Road Dynamics Inc. ("IRD" or the "Company"), a Quarterhill Inc. ("Quarterhill") company (TSX: QTRH) (OTCQX: QTRHF), announced today that PAT Traffic (Chile) Ltda, a wholly owned subsidiary of IRD, has received a contract for the design, supply, installation and service, and the integration of two Weigh-in-Motion (WIM) systems in the Republic of Paraguay.

The stations are located on a bypass highway near Asuncion along a major truck route to a local transfer station. The stations provide state-of-the-art commercial vehicle enforcement solutions integrating WIM systems with complementary technologies such as real-time vehicle dimensioning systems and axle load and gross vehicle weight information. This is a continuation of a country wide truck compliance program utilizing IRD-PAT systems to improve truck transport efficiency while protecting the highway infrastructure.

Mr. Rish Malhotra, IRD's President and Chief Executive Officer commented, "Paraguay is deploying an integrated truck enforcement system and toll system for highway pricing and we are pleased and honoured to expand our long-standing relationship in the country. Deploying our state-of-the-art weigh stations and toll systems will ensure the efficient operation and movement of commercial vehicle traffic thus allowing for sustainable and safe transportation growth in Paraguay and the region."
