

Intapp enhances DealCloud platform with access to M&A data from Bureau van Dijk, a Moody's Analytics company

June 13, 2023

Native access to global M&A data enables investors and advisors to make better-informed and faster business development and deal decisions

PALO ALTO, Calif., June 13, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Intapp (NASDAQ: INTA), a leading provider of cloud software for the global professional and financial services industry, today announced that data from the Orbis M&A database can now be accessed via its DealCloud platform. The Orbis M&A database is a proprietary database from Bureau van Dijk, a Moody's Analytics company, which consists of more than 2.5 million global deals and provides streamlined access to global mergers and acquisition data for investors and advisors.

Through this partnership, Intapp clients subscribing to Bureau van Dijk's Orbis M&A database can now directly access that data within the Intapp DealCloud platform. This enhanced partnership combines completed and rumored deal data with resulting financials and vendor involvement to drive valuable network insights, boost business development efforts, and better inform data-driven decision-making.

Access to Orbis market intelligence directly in the DealCloud platform will help investors and advisors:

- Save time researching, collecting, and validating market intelligence and deal activity, including private transactions
- Analyze pre-, post-, and future deal data to learn from past deals and stay ahead of upcoming opportunities
- Evaluate financial data to drive informed decision-making and better position their firms to source new business
- Identify key deal participants, including vendor involvement, to determine roles played by key relationships or competitors

"In order to remain competitive in today's complex and ever-changing deal marketplace, access to up-to-date market intelligence is paramount," said Ben Harrison, President of Financial Services at Intapp. "Now, Intapp clients can access a robust market intelligence feed from Bureau van Dijk right inside DealCloud, the deal and pipeline management platform they're in daily — boosting their ability to identify, win, and execute on high-quality, profitable engagements."

"We're excited to expand our partnership with Intapp to help investors and advisors remain competitive in a dynamic business environment," said Matt McDonald, Managing Director at Moody's Analytics. "By enriching proprietary datasets with integrated Orbis M&A data, organizations can save time researching and collecting deal activity, identifying key deal participants, and analyzing financial summaries to drive informed decision-making and better position their firms to source new business."
