

Health Future Awards Henry Schein Supplier Agreement for its Henry Schein Disposable Skin Stapler and Skin Staple Remover

April 23, 2025

Relationship Aims to Optimize Procurement and Patient Outcomes

MELVILLE, N.Y. – April 23, 2025 – Henry Schein, Inc. (Nasdaq: HSIC), the world's largest provider of health care solutions to office-based dental and medical practitioners, and Health Future, a health care consortium owned by Oregon hospitals and health-care systems, today announced an agreement for the distribution of the Henry Schein Disposable Skin Stapler and Henry Schein Skin Staple Remover across all Health Future facilities.

Under the terms of the agreement, Health Future will use the Henry Schein Disposable Skin Stapler and Henry Schein Skin Staple Remover for wound closure procedures across its network of 22 hospitals, clinics, and other care facilities. This strategic relationship aims to enhance patient outcomes, streamline procurement processes, and optimize resource allocation.

"Henry Schein's proven track record, combined with its commitment to innovation and efficiency, aligns with our core values," said Matt Mikesell, Chief Executive Officer of Health Future. "This agreement enhances our ability to improve quality, standardize care, and elevate the patient experience."

The Henry Schein Disposable Skin Stapler is ergonomically designed for ease of handling 35 high-quality, 316L stainless steel staples. Its high stapling speed helps improve efficiency and reduce the risk of cross-contamination. The sterile, single-use stapler also has a transparent plastic cartridge for visibility. The Henry Schein Skin Staple Remover is compatible with regular and wide staples. The sterile, single-use remover features a stainless-steel tip.

"At Henry Schein, our team is dedicated to providing health systems with cost-effective solutions that streamline supply chain operations and ultimately enhance patient care," said Brian Heyndrickx, Executive Director of Strategic Accounts at Henry Schein. "We are pleased to collaborate with Health Future to offer a standardized wound closure solution that optimizes procurement and ensures consistent patient care across all facilities. This reinforces our commitment to being true partners in helping health care networks thrive."
