In this video, Mannatech's CEO and President, Alfredo "Al" Bala, and Senior Global Wellness Director, Dr. Steve Nugent, talk about Mannatech's Manapol powder as the purest and best source of aloe vera's healthful properties. Manapol is a powerful element included in Mannatech's Glyconutritional technology that is part of nearly all of its supplement products available in China through its cross-border e-commerce website, www.MeiTaiChina.com. † This includes its top selling product in China, Advanced Ambrotose®, which is fortified with Manapol and is clinically proven to boost the immune system, support digestive function and support cognitive function, including memory, mood and concentration.

Watch the video to learn more.

† Mannatech's cross-border e-commerce model in China is a different opportunity from Mannatech's MLM business in other markets. Customers who invite other customers to the Mannatech China cross-border e-commerce site gain rewards for future product purchases or cash redemption. The e-commerce business model is not multi-level marketing or direct selling.
