Privacy Notice

Document Effective Date: November 2, 2026

This Privacy Notice explains how Summit Therapeutics Inc and its affiliates headquartered 601 Brickell Key Drive Suite 1000, Miami, FL 33131 ("Summit", “we” and “us”) may process Personal Data about you through your online and off-line interactions with us through Summit services, products, communications, and digital properties (including websites and mobile applications) that refer to this Privacy Notice and where Summit may obtain and control your Personal Data from a third party (collectively, "Summit Associations"). This Privacy Notice also informs you how you can exercise your rights.

Why You Should Read This Privacy Notice

Summit takes the privacy of our customers and visitors to our websites and mobile applications (you) very seriously. Please read this Privacy Notice carefully as it contains important information about how your personal data will be used. If you are an employee or contractor of Summit Therapeutics, Inc., or one of its affiliates please refer to your contract for further information on how we collect, process and store your personal information. For the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulation and all other relevant legislation, Summit Therapeutics, Inc. (‘we’ or ‘us’) is the ‘data controller’ (i.e. the company who is responsible for, and controls the processing of, your personal data).

What Is Personal Data?

Personal data is anything that enables you to be identified or identifiable. We collectively refer to handling, collecting, protecting, storing or otherwise using your personal data as ‘processing’.

If You Fail to Provide Personal Data

Where we need to collect personal data by law, or under the terms of a contract we have with you and you fail to provide that information when requested, we may not be able to perform the contract we have or are trying to enter into with you or to provide you with the services you have requested.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

Collecting (Obtaining) Your Personal Data

Most of the information we process is provided to us directly by you, for example:

- You have submitted a registration or a response to a questionnaire
- You have made an inquiry or information request to us
- You have requested to attend or have attended our events
- You have subscribed to our newsletter(s)
- You have visited our website(s) or used our mobile app(s) and consented to our use of cookies or similar technologies

We may also obtain Personal Data indirectly, such as from publicly available sources (e.g., websites or publicly accessible databases), third-party data vendors, health care providers and health insurance companies, and third-party partners and collaborators. We may combine Personal Data from multiple online and off-line sources. The categories of Personal Data that Summit may collect about you include:

- Direct identifiers and contact information, including your name, address, phone number, or email address
- Registration information, such as your username and related account details
- Relationship data, including information about products, treatments and health conditions that are of interest to you
- Transaction data, such as payment information if you are one of our suppliers

How We May Use Personal Data

We may use your Personal Data for the business and commercial purposes relating to your Summit interactions, communications with you, improving Summit products and services, and for other internal business purposes.

Administering Programs, Services, and Other Interactions with You

We may use your Personal Data to provide you with the programs or services you requested, or to administer Summit services. This means we may use your Personal Data to respond to your questions, provide you with your requested services, offer you an optimal customer experience, perform our contractual obligations to you, or perform actions based on your consent.

Marketing Communications

We provide marketing communications that promote the use of or offer participation in Summit products, services, programs, research events or provide other information that may be of interest to you, such as information on certain health conditions. We will use your Personal Data to send you marketing communications and to determine the types of marketing communications to send.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

You can opt-out of marketing communications at any time. Marketing communication opt-out instructions are included in each marketing communication you receive, or you can email us at DPO@Smmttx.com

Business and Product Administration and Improvement

To discover new facts that could help Summit better understand customer needs and help improve, develop, and evaluate product services, materials, programs, and treatments, Summit may analyze Personal Data for its legitimate interests in business and product improvement.

Compliance with Laws and Regulations

We may process your Personal Data to enforce our legal rights. We may use Personal Data to monitor compliance with our policies and procedures, for fraud prevention, and to investigate and prosecute users who violate laws or who engage in behavior that is illegal or harmful to others or to others' property.

How We May Disclose Personal Data

We may share Personal Data with third parties for the business and commercial purposes described below. We do not sell Personal Data to third parties.

Affiliates, Vendors and Other Third Parties

We have Associations with various vendors, including our affiliated companies, that help us operate our business and for whom it may be required to have access to your Personal Data while providing services to Summit. We require them to handle your Personal Data collected through the Summit Associations in accordance with appropriate contractual privacy and security provisions.

Business and Research Partners

We may partner with other companies and public and private organizations to provide you with products, content, or services on a joint or "co-branded" basis. You should be aware that, in such cases, in addition to this Privacy Notice, the relevant partner's privacy notice may also apply, and, in limited cases, there may be a shared privacy notice.

For co-branded forms and sites, you will see displayed both the Summit logo and the logo of the co-branding partner. To access co-branded services, you may have to complete a registration form, and this registration information may be shared with Summit 's co-branding partners, and you should read the individual privacy policies of our co-branding partners, as they may differ in some respects from ours.

In addition, we may disclose Personal Data to our external auditors, attorneys, accountants, and similar professionals based on our legitimate interest in the operation of our business and our obligations to comply with applicable laws and regulations.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

Disclosures for Legal Obligations, to Authorities and for Product Safety

If you contact Summit regarding your experience using our products, we may use the information you provide in reports to the US, UK, EU and other similar health and medicine government agencies across the world, and as otherwise required by law. We also may use the information to contact your prescribing physician/doctor to follow up regarding an unexpected event involving the use of our product.

In certain limited circumstances, we may need to disclose your Personal Data to comply with a legal obligation, process, or demand and for reasons of public interest, such as to comply with reporting obligations to governing regulatory authorities regarding the safety of our products, in response to a subpoena, or to meet national security or law enforcement requirements.

Disclosure to Subsequent Owner or Operator

We may transfer your Personal Data to a successor entity upon a merger, consolidation, or other corporate reorganization, to a purchaser of all or a portion of our assets, or pursuant to a financing arrangement or co-promotional agreement. The Personal Data we have about you may be transferred to parties to the transaction based on our legitimate interest in preparing for and completing the transaction. Any successor entity shall be bound by terms and conditions reasonably similar to this Privacy Notice.

Lawful Bases (Legal Grounds) for Processing Personal Data under the GDPR

Where we collect and process personal data under the UK and/or EU GDPR we will ensure that we have a lawful basis for doing so.

Our lawful basis for collecting and using your personal data will depend on the information concerned and the specific context in which we collect it.

We will normally collect personal data from you on one or more of the following lawful bases:

- Consent: We may process your personal information after you have consented (agreed) to us doing so. Your consent may have been obtained by us, or by third parties on our behalf. You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.
- Contract: We may process your personal information when we need to deliver a contractual service to you or because you have asked us to do something before entering into a contract (e.g., provide a quote).
- Legal obligation: We may process your personal information when we need to comply with a legal obligation.
- Legitimate interest: We may process your personal information when we need to for our or another's legitimate interests, where these interests are not overridden by your rights.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

How We May Use Personal Data through Online Interactions

In addition to the uses described separately in this Privacy Notice, we may use your Personal Data collected online for the additional purposes as described in this section.

Customized User Experiences

We may use your IP address and the Personal Data that we obtain automatically using cookies or similar tracking technologies to make our websites and mobile applications easier for you to use and navigate, and to assist in your registrations and login. When we send email communications, we may place a web beacon or similar tracking technology in the email to know whether your device can receive HTML emails, or to collect data on whether the email or an attachment or link in the email has been opened. We use this data to help us determine and document if a particular part of our communication was more relevant to you.

In some cases, we collect this Personal Data with your consent. In other cases, we collect this information for our legitimate business interest to optimize and customize your user experience.

Digital Analytics and Improvement

We may use the Personal Data that you provide to us and the online information we collect automatically through cookies and similar tracking technologies to monitor user traffic patterns and preferences. We may also track email communications through web beacons or similar tracking technology in emails to create aggregated statistics and reports to analyze the effectiveness of and improve our marketing campaigns.

Tell-A-Friend Functions

We may offer "tell-a-friend" functionality on our sites. If you choose to use this function, we will collect your friend’s contact information. We will automatically send your friend a one-time email with the information you specified or inviting your friend to visit the site. We use this Personal Data you provide us as part of the "tell-a-friend" functionality for the sole purposes of sending this one-time email.

How Your Personal Data May Be Shared through Online Interactions

In addition to the types of disclosures of Personal Data described separately in this Privacy Notice, we may share Personal Data online for the additional purposes as described in this section.

Third-Party Advertising and Online Behavioral Advertising

We may provide you with online advertisements for Summit products and services on third-party websites and mobile services that are tailored to you, which may be based on the Personal Data that you provide to us or to a third-party website that you are visiting, or on your browsing activity, purchases, or interests. We may share some of your device information with our advertising service providers that we have obtained from cookies and other data-collection and tracking technologies based on your Summit interactions.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

Some Summit Associations participate in online behavioral advertising (this is also sometimes called targeted advertising or interest-based advertising). You can identify these sites by the "Advertising Choices" link in the advertisement. Our advertising network partners may place and use cookies on our websites and on other third-party sites to collect Personal Data about your activities to provide you with online advertisements that are based on your interests. When a Summit online behavioral advertisement is delivered to you, you may see an "Ad Choices" icon. Clicking on the icon or link will take you to a website where you can manage or opt-out of the use of data about your browsing history that is used for the delivery of online behavioral advertisements. If you opt-out, you may still see advertisements online, including advertisements from Summit that are based on other information (e.g., based on the content of the page being viewed rather than your prior clickstream activity). In some cases, data may still be collected about your browsing activity by these third-party advertisers. Some web browsers may transmit "do-not-track" signals to web services with which your browser communicates. As of the effective date of this Privacy Notice, an industry standard has not yet been established on how to respond to these signals; therefore, Summit does not currently respond to these signals.

This Privacy Notice only applies to Summit Associations linked to this Privacy Notice and does not apply to third-party websites to which Summit Associations may link, including links to outside websites or advertisements from third parties. We encourage you to review the privacy statements provided by all third parties prior to providing them with Personal Data.

Sharing Your Personal Data

We may share your personal data with other Summit affiliates.

We may share your personal information with third parties (other organizations or individuals):

- For the purpose(s) for which the information was submitted. or
- As agreed between us.

We share personal information with third parties that act as data processors to provide elements of our service by processing personal information on our instructions (see 'Data Processors' below).

We may share your personal information with third parties in connection with our corporate transactions, (e.g., mergers and/or acquisitions), as a result of which your personal information may be assigned to a third party.

We may share your personal information with law enforcement, regulatory and other government agencies and professional bodies, as required by and/or in accordance with applicable law or regulation.

In some circumstances we are legally obliged to share information. For example, under a court order.

It is our policy to only share your personal information with third parties that are legally or contractually bound to protect your personal information to the same standards as we are, and that will flow those same standards to their subcontractors.

In any scenario, we'll satisfy ourselves that we have a lawful basis on which to share your personal information.

Data Processors

Where we use data processors, we have contracts in place with them to ensure that they cannot do anything with personal information we have shared with them unless we have instructed them to do it. They will hold it securely and retain it for the period we instruct them to.

These data processors commit to processing information in compliance with applicable data protection laws and to implementing appropriate security measures to protect your information.

These data processors may use sub-contractors (known as sub-processors) that have access to your personal data. If they do, they are required to have contracts in place with those sub-processors to ensure that they cannot do anything with personal information shared with them beyond what we have instructed our data processors to do with it.

Please note, we use Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools and processors, which means that AI may be used to process your personal data. When we use AI we do so in compliance with applicable data protection legislation and regulatory guidance.

For additional information about the data processors with whom we may share your personal information, please contact us at DPO@Smmttx.com.

Cross Border Transfers of Your Personal Information

Your personal information may be transferred (sent to or accessed from) outside the country in which we collected it. Any such transfer will be only:

- To you; or
- To a recipient located in a country which provides an adequate level of protection for your personal information; or
- To a recipient under a contractual agreement which satisfies the relevant legal requirements for the transfer of personal information, to ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place to protect your personal information in accordance with local levels of data protection; or
- To a recipient under the EU-US Data Privacy Framework, or UK-US Data Bridge where relevant; or
- When your personal information has first been anonymized

The countries/areas to which we routinely transfer personal data are:

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

- EU/EEA: To a recipient located in a country which provides an adequate level of protection for your personal information.
- China: To a recipient using an International Data Transfer Agreement or UK Addendum to EU Standard Contractual Clauses

Additional Information for Job Applicants

If you have applied for employment with Summit, the Personal Data submitted with your job application may include your resume/CV; previous professional, education and other background information; driver's license information; social security/national insurance number or equivalent national identification (as required or permitted by local law); cover letter; licenses; permits and certifications held; reference information; and any other information that you choose to provide (e.g., employment preferences, willingness to relocate, awards or professional memberships). This information may come from you, a recruiter, your references, prior employers, or your educational institutions.

Consistent with applicable law, we may ask questions about race/ethnic origin, gender, veteran status, and disability status of our applicants, for the monitoring of equal employment opportunity compliance. Except as specifically requested or legally required, we ask that you avoid submitting information in your application that may qualify as sensitive information under applicable law. Sensitive information includes data about race, color, religion, ethnicity, nationality or national origin, age, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, marital status, medical or health information (including physical or mental disabilities or pregnancy status), genetic or biometric information, political or philosophical beliefs, political party or trade union membership, veteran status, photographs, background check information, judicial data such as criminal records or information on other judicial or administrative proceedings, or any other legally protected status.

Personal Data will be processed based on our legitimate interest in processing your job application and evaluating your candidacy and qualifications and to conduct reference checks. We may also inquire about criminal records and perform a background check following a conditional offer of employment, where permitted by applicable law. We may also process Personal Data from your job application for regulatory, compliance and legal purposes, consistent with this Privacy Notice. Personal Data may also be used for additional administrative purposes, including aggregate management reporting, internal training, and as generally required to operate our business.

We may share the data on your applications with recruiters, consultants, attorneys/lawyers, preemployment background check services, and our affiliates.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

Retention (Storage) of Personal Information

We will retain your personal data only for as long as we need it for the purpose(s) for which it was collected, or as required to do so by law.

To determine the appropriate retention period for your personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of it, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of it, the purposes for which we process it and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, as well as applicable legal requirements.

Your Data Protection Rights

If you are a UK or EU citizen, or we process your personal data in the UK and/or EU, under data protection law, you have rights we need to make you aware of. The rights available to you depend on our reason for processing your information.

- Your right of access: You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information. This right always applies. There are some exemptions, which means you may not always receive all the information we process.
- Your right to rectification: You have the right to ask us to rectify information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete. This right always applies.
- Your right to erasure: You have the right to ask us to erase your personal information in certain circumstances.
- Your right to restriction of processing: You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your information in certain circumstances.
- Your right to object to processing: You have the right to object to processing if we are able to process your information because the process forms part of our public tasks or is in our legitimate interests.
- Your right to data portability: This only applies to information you have given us. You have the right to ask that we transfer the information you gave us from one organization to another or give it to you. The right only applies if we are processing information based on your consent or under, or in talks about entering into a contract and the processing is automated.

You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. We have one month to respond to you.

If you wish to exercise any of your rights, please contact us.

Trademarks, Registered or Otherwise, are the property of their respective owner(s).

Security

We use appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect the personal data that we collect and process about you. The measures we use are designed to provide a level of security appropriate to the risk of processing your personal data. Please be aware that, we cannot guarantee the security of all personal information transmitted to or by us.

Privacy of Children

We do not provide services directly to children or proactively collect their personal data. We understand the importance of protecting children's privacy and we never knowingly collect personal information about individuals under the age of 13.

Visiting Our Premises

When you visit our premises you may provide your name and other personal information for security and safety reasons.

Accessing Our Sites Globally

This site is owned and operated by Summit in the United States. When visiting this site, your communication with us may result in the transfer of Personal Data across international borders. We will only process your Personal Data with your consent, to perform a contract between you and us, to comply with legal obligations, or where we have a legitimate interest. These legitimate interests include administrative activities and complying with your requests.

Changes to This Privacy Notice

We will use Personal Data only in the manner described in the Privacy Notice in effect when the Personal Data was collected. However, and subject to any applicable consent requirements, we may change this Privacy Notice from time to time. You should check this Privacy Notice frequently to ensure you are aware of the most recent version that will apply each time you use the Website.
