PowHERed by Sprouts expands its impact with eight new NIL deals

PHOENIX--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Sprouts Farmers Market announced today a deeper commitment to its trailblazing program, PowHERed by Sprouts, with the addition of eight new individual Name, Image and Likeness (NIL) deals with female college athletes. As the college sports and NIL landscape continues to evolve, Sprouts remains a leader as the first natural grocery retailer to make a commitment to sponsor women's collegiate athletics — whether it's through empowering and fueling female athletes in the communities it serves or partnering with athletes and organizations changing the game in women's sports.

"Sprouts is on a mission to power women both on and off the field, fueling performance through nutrition and partnering with athletes who are changing the game in women's sports," said Nick Konat, president and chief operating officer of Sprouts. "We're excited to welcome eight new incredible athletes to the Sprouts NIL roster, so together we can build a healthier and stronger future for all female athletes."
